THANKSGIVING.

The Way Jim Wiggins Will Entertain Visitors in Empire.

On the 29th and 30th of the present month Jim Wiggins will turn loose the biggest lot of sport ever seen in Empire.

TURKEY SHOOTING.

The distance will be 200 yards, with rifles, at 25 cents per shot, nobody barred. The above pictures represent the style of turkeys.

CHICKEN SHOOTING.

The pictures are not hens, exactly, but will suffice to show the breed he will put up. The distance will be 45 yards, two shots for 25 cents, nothing larger than No. 6 shot allowed.

TROWING AT DUCKS.

Ducks will also be put up for expert throwers to throw sticks at: ten cents per shot will be charged. You will also get a chance at chickens with their heads out of a box, 30 yards distant, with pea rifles (22 caliber), 2 shots for a quarter. An invitation is extended to the crack pigeon shots to try their luck at trap shooting. Matches and rules can be made on the grounds. Nobody barred in any of the above events.

MASQUERADE.

On Thanksgiving night there will be a masquerade at Wiggins' Hall, and costumes can be had at the hall. He has arranged to have a lot of new and attractive costumes on hand. Tickets one dollar, admitting gentleman and ladies. Mrs. Kohl will have a big spread ready for hungry people, and there will also be plenty of stable room for those who come by private conveyance.

Jim Wiggins will spare no pains or expense to make this the grandest Thanksgiving Empire ever saw.

Turkeys are coming into the market. They glance at you with a sort of, "I'm-dead-onto-you-but-can't-help-myself," look.

The Swift steamer was out yesterday emptying the cistern in front of the Capitol. The beauty of the steamer is that it don't get that tired feeling.

The Curry tub was out yesterday. While it throws a pretty good stream it would be hard work for 50 men to run it ten minutes. It would make a first-class butter churn.

It is rumored that the dusky Hawaiian queen has been restored to her throne. If she don't know just what to do with it, she might bring it to Carson, raffle it off and start another paper with the proceeds.

The News has turned another volume. Miss Martin has always conducted the paper in a gentlemanly manner. However we would like to have Miss Martin explain how she turns a volume on Nov. 21st, when the paper was founded on June 1st.

As proof that they punish white and colored criminals alike, when guilty of similar offenses, a white man was lynched in Virginia the other day for assaulting a negro girl. They say the color line is being displaced by a rope with a noose in the end of it.

A telegraph operator at Davisville Cal., was shot and killed by a man named Dodge on the night of the 21st. Dodge gave himself up, and it was learned that Dodge had seduced Dodge's sister, and the girl is now lying at death's door as a result. Public sympathy is with Dodge.

The Gazette says: Nevada is attracting more attention in the way of inquiry about the lands and the like more now than ever before in the history of the State. International Irrigation Congress

The official proceedings of the International Irrigation Congress, held at Los Angeles, California, October 10th to 14th, have just been issued in pamphlet form, a copy which has been received at this office. The book contains nearly two hundred pages and embraces the call for the Congress; the address of welcome, the list of delegates; permanent organization, address of the President; formal opening address; resolutions introduced by members, address delivered by foreign delegates, by American delegates, principal discussions, address to the country; National Executive Committee, organization of the committee and the plan of work for the next Congress.

The discussions cover a wide range of topics on irrigation subjects, and the book contains matter of deep interest to all the citizens of the arid States. The proceedings are published in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and extra copies can be secured by sending six 5-cent stamps, to cover cost of printing and postage, to Fred L. Allen, Secretary International Irrigation Congress, Los Angeles, California.

A Close Call.

While driving a wagon in Pinenut last Wednesday, Fred Sargent narrowly escaped death. In making a turn the wagon was cramped in such a manner that the horses could not be handled. They became frightened and starting suddenly lifted the wagon so that the king pin was pulled out and being on a down grade the forward part of the wagon struck the animals on the haunches, they being clear of the wagon, ran away over the hills, and Fred fell under the wagon, which slid down a few yards, bruising him considerably. He was picked up by Roberts, who found him under the wagon unable to walk.

The team finally ran against a pine tree which they couldn't pull down, and were captured.

Fred was brought to Carson Monday. He seems to be injured internally as he has great difficulty in breathing when lying down.

Fools.

The Union printers on the Tacoma Ledger have gone on a strike because machine typesetters have been put in use. The striking printers will start a paper in opposition to the Ledger.

These printers are simply putting a block in the way of progress. They may stave off the inevitable result for a while, but the supplanting of compositors by type-setting machines is bound to come, and the types who have the foresight to see it and learn to run the machines, will reap the benefits.

Shine, Sir?

Frank Lopez has gone into the boot-blackening business, and is prepared to shine boots and shoes in such a manner that it will be dangerous to look upon them with the naked eye. Fred Mather made his outfit, which is neat and well put together.

The Grippe Again.

Berlin, November 22.—An epidemic of influenza is prevailing in upper Silesia, and while the disease generally exists in a light form there have been a number of deaths. Twenty-seven deaths are reported at Oppeln, and at Ziegenhals the seminary has been closed, seventy of the pupils being ill with the prevailing disease.

McKinley's Vote.

Columbus, O., November 22.—McKinley's official majority is 43,036 and his plurality is 80,999. The total vote cast was 823,645, which is 26,510 less than the vote cast for President last year. Nearly 35,000 voters voted only for Governor. This is probably the result of unfamiliarity with the Australian ballot system.
